Hosting a Concert? Here are the guidelines for all-age shows...

In order for a retail licensee to claim the exception of an "establishment where pre-booked concerts with advanced ticket sales are held" under KRS 244.085(6), the ABC Board has clarified that the following must be established by the licensee:

1. In order to satisfy the "usual and customary business of the establishment" requirement, 50% of gross sales must be derived from ticket sales.
2. Advanced tickets must be the responsibility of the licensee, who either sells them directly or has some contractual agreement with a vendor/promoter to sell the tickets. However, there must be some accounting mechanism in place so the licensee can show the gross sales if requested. Simply giving an allotment of tickets to a promoter is not sufficient.
3. Tickets must have the name of the band (or bands) performing as well as the date and time of the concert. A generic ticket is nothing more than an advanced cover charge.
4. When a concert is taking place, procedures must be implemented where minors are restricted to only areas where concerts are actually taking place.
5. Minors are not permitted on the premises until 30 minutes prior to the concert and must leave no later than 30 minutes after the concert is over.

Minors will not be permitted on the premise unless the aforementioned conditions are satisfied.

Failure to comply with all the above conditions can result in a charge of violation of KRS 244.085(6).
